As summer arrives, so does the harsh sun.

While we should always be protecting our skin with SPF, year-round, here's some recourse if the damage has already been done.

TODAY Style asked celebrity skin-care experts to share their favorite products for saving sunburnt skin. The best part? Everything can be found in the beauty aisle at your local drugstore.

3. Vichy Mineral 89 Face Moisturizer, $29.50, CVS

"It's important to keep skin moisturized because a sunburn will make it dry — I love this cream because it's super lightweight," says cosmetic and laser skin care specialist Dr. Anna Avaliani, who preps some top Victoria's Secret models.

4. La Roche-Posay Anthelios 50 Face Mineral Tinted Sunscreen, SPF 50 Tinted, $33.50, Walgreens

"The redness from a burn can be a little uncomfortable to deal with, so the best way to protect it is to use this tinted sunscreen, which doesn't look too heavy or white," says Avaliani.
